

About the Mammoth presentations

Each team, represented by its member (maybe two members), must explain the idea of their solution, the methods used, and the results obtained in a presentation, for example, as ppt slides. The presentation must reflect the content of the work submitted as a solution to the Mammoth problem. If the team includes in the presentation any additions or improvements to the initial version of their work obtained over the past few days, these improvements must be reported explicitly, for example, "such and such a part of the work must be changed as follows: ...". However, the original version of the solution must be presented first. The speaker(s) should be ready to answer questions about the work. Each team is given 10 minutes for their talk.

The schedule of presentations will be published here on November 5 and will be adjusted tomorrow on November 6 in real time
